Had Successful Passage Across.

VOYAGE WAS QUITE ROUGH

The New Challenger is By Far the Handsomest of Previous Shamrocks.

New York, June 15.—Sir Thomas J. Lipton's yacht, the Shamrock III, and the Erin, have arrived safely at this port after a rough voyage.

The new challenger is a far handsomer craft than either the Shamrock I or II. She looks not unlike the Columbia above the water line, and her beam seems greater than either of those yachts. She is easily making very little broken water at the bow and leaving a clean wake. Her captain, Robert Wriggs, says she behaved splendidly under all conditions of weather during the passage across the Atlantic. She is rigged as a sloop with a short bowsprit and a topmast over a short stout lower mast.

IT WAS CHILDREN'S DAY AMONG THE CHURCHES

Special Sermons Were Preached and Concerts Given By the Children Yesterday.

In many of the churches of the city yesterday was observed as Children's Day, and appropriate exercises were held. The pastors preached sermons to the younger people in the morning and in the evening the Sunday school children gave concerts which were well attended.

At the Hedding M. E. church, however, Rev. Ralph F. Lowe, took as his morning theme, the life of John Wesley, his subject being "A Modern Example of the Strenuous Life." Wednesday will be the 90th anniversary of the birth of the famous Methodist. After the sermon eight children were presented for baptism. The junior and intermediate departments of the Epworth League did not hold their usual meetings, and instead of the usual preaching service at 7 o'clock the children gave a concert.

At the morning service of the Baptist church, Rev. W. A. Kinnis, the pastor, gave a talk to the children, there being a goodly number present. The usual evening service was taken up with a mission sermon by Miss Newcomb.

At the morning service of the Universalist church the pastor, Rev. Edie K. M. Jones delivered a sermon on the duties of parents toward their children in regard to their religious training. After the sermon baptism was administered to one child. In the evening the service was devoted to a concert by the Sunday school and recitations by the younger members of the school which were very nicely given and much enjoyed by the large congregation present.

Children's Sunday was observed at the Congregational church yesterday morning by the baptism of ten children and a sermon by the pastor especially for the young people. In the evening a concert by the Sunday school was given in which the young people were at their best. The church was crowded at both services.

Children's Day was observed at the Presbyterian church yesterday morning, the usual morning service being given up entirely to a concert and recitation by the children who gave a very pleasing program. Each number was given in a very creditable manner and was enjoyed by a large congregation.

The children were drilled by Miss Emma Phillips and Miss Lizzie Knoch. Miss Mary Walker acted as organist. The evening service was conducted by Dr. Todd of Quincy, Mass., Presbyterian missionary for New England, who gave a very able sermon. Dr. Todd also preached twice at Graniteville yesterday.

GLOOMY DAY FOR GODDARD

Montpelier Won Decisive Game

AND IS NOW CHAMPION

Goddard Played a Hard, Up Hill Game But Was Fairly Defeated.

Montpelier, June 15.—In spite of the threatened rain fully two thousand baseball enthusiasts and supporters of the two combatting teams from Goddard and Montpelier seminaries gathered on the local campus Saturday afternoon to witness the decisive game of the series. Again Montpelier was able to hit the ball to better advantage, and won easily by a score of 9 to 5.

Goddard was unable to score until the fifth inning when a timely hit by Berry brought in two runs.

The home team scored twice in the second inning, five in the fourth and twice in the fifth. A sharp downpour of rain fell just before the beginning of the fourth inning, wetting the ball and Lewis lost control of it. With the bases full Lewis forced in two runs and a few hits brought in three more thus making the score 9 to 0 in favor of Montpelier.

At the beginning of the sixth inning Fraser went into the box for Goddard, and did grand uphull work, allowing but one hit off his delivery, striking out four men and shutting Montpelier out for the rest of the game. The game might have been a different result if he had been placed in the box first.

In the first inning Montpelier went to bat first, Eastman being the first man up. He got a base on balls but was caught stealing second. Phillips singled and Melver struck out, Parker following on a foul to Buchanan.

Murray went out on a grounder to Crapo. Grant did the same. Lewis fell a victim to Drennan. The third inning opened 2 to 0 in Montpelier's favor. Phillips was out on a grounder to Grant. Melver was out on an assist by Lewis and Parker filed out to Murray.

Butler hit to Drennan who threw wild to first, and Butler went to second. Smith was out on an assist by Parker. Pike fanned three times. Butler stole third, but Berry struck out.

Crapo hit a fly to Murray who fumbled it and the batter went to second on Grant's fumble of Huntington's grounder. Miner hit a grounder to Murray who threw Crapo out at third. Davis filed the bases on a safe hit to right. Drennan hit a slow grounder to Murray, reached first and Huntington scored.

Eastman walked, forcing in Miner. Phillips went out on a fly to Berry. Melver walked, forcing in Davis. Parker hit to Smith, who threw by first and Drennan scored. Crapo out on a hit to Murray.

In the same inning Buchanan walked. Seaver went out on a fly to Davis and Buchanan died stealing second. Murray took a free base but Grant went out on an assist by Parker.

Montpelier added two more in her half of the fifth. Huntington went to second on a passed ball. Davis singled. Drennan went out on a fly to Berry. Eastman hit for three bases over Pike's head, scoring Huntington and Davis. Phillips hit a grounder to Grant, who fumbled. Melver walked but Parker went out on a fly to Lewis.

Fraser took Lewis' place at the bat and went out on a grounder to Huntington. Butler walked after two strikes had been called. Smith got to first on Drennan's error and Butler went to second. Pike walked, filling the bases. Berry made a pretty single by second and scored Butler and Smith. Buchanan went out on a fly to Crapo and Seaver went out on an assist by Drennan.

WHY I AM A CATHOLIC

Told By Fr. Sutton Last Evening

AT ST. MONICA'S CHURCH

Passionist Father Gave Four Reasons Why He is a Member of the Church.

"Why I am a Catholic" was the subject discussed by Rev. Father Sutton at St. Monica's church last evening to a very large and interested audience. He said in part: The question before us is, "What truth did Christ teach? What church did he establish to teach this truth?" A sincere inquirer for this truth would be met by a great difficulty in his search for the one true religion. We have many religious bodies claiming to teach the doctrines of Christ, each one teaching doctrines that are denied or opposed by others. How can the true religion be found among so many conflicting sects? Christ founded one religion only. The religion founded by Christ must bear the character of Christ upon it, it must show that it has come from Him. As Christ was infinite truth, what He taught must be true; no error be in it, hence His religion must show a unity in its doctrines, as unity is a mark of truth.

Second. The object of religion is to make us pleasing to God. We feel an opposition in our nature to do what is good. The true religion must then give us the means to become good. Christ came to make us holy; His church must continue his work. Third. As God is the Father of us all; if he made a revelation to man, it would be for all mankind; it would meet the need for every heart; it would embrace the globe. Fourth. The true religion was founded by Christ. It existed in His day. What church of today can go back and trace its origin from Christ? Every honest investigator for the true religion must acknowledge that these characters must be found in the religion of Christ. Need I declare to you that the Catholic Church has these. She is for all, the rich, poor, refined, educated and ignorant. She is one in her teaching—Catholics wherever they may be, in whatever country they live, they are one in their belief—each and every one, from the Pope, the head, to the humblest child of the church, all accept the same truths. Here is unity.

The Catholic church affords the means to a holy life. She teaches the doctrine, she has the seven sacraments which are channels of grace to the soul. Catholics who live according to her teaching become good and virtuous. "The church with its head in Rome the Pope, is the only Catholic on universal church. She is everywhere, hence this church must be God's religion. The church goes back for its origin to Christ. Peter appointed by Christ was the first pope, after him come others in succession, 204 in number until we come to Pope Leo XIII, the present pope of the church, whereupon I must conclude it is the only true religion, and the one founded by Jesus Christ. "Thereupon my reason compels me to give assent to her teaching and to follow her as the guide, given to the world by Jesus Christ to teach religious truth. "Those who refuse to acknowledge the authority of the Catholic church admit she was the first church, but say she fell into error; she became corrupt. If this charge be true, then Christ was not God, and all Christianity is false. Christ gave his solemn promise that his church would not fall into error or become corrupt.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

Subject of Vigorous Sermon by Fr. Sutton Saturday Evening.

An interesting lecture on the subject of Marriage and Divorce was given by Rev. Fr. Sutton at St. Monica's church Saturday evening to a very large audience. He said that marriage was a sacrament in the Catholic Church, that after the fall of man God raised marriage to a sacrament, and is one of the seven sacraments that is practiced in the Catholic Church. He told how the Catholic Church was looked up to for its refusal to recognize divorce, that once married in this church there is no separation according to the law of God but death. For as our Lord hath said, "What God hath joined together, let no man put asunder."

He referred to the many divorces at the present date in the United States numbering into the thousands, the many homes broken and the repeated marriages by the parties. He spoke of divorce as the degradation of woman and explained in many instances why it was degradation. He concluded by giving all men and women yet unmarried strong advice in regard to this matter, to contemplate it in a serious manner. He also disapproved of hasty marriages and of mixed marriages, and gave his reasons for so doing.
